Establishes Him As Leading GOP Candidate Along Atlantic Coast

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—A flood of votes carried Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower towards a 150,000 victory margin in New Jersey today, and established him as the leading Republican presidential candidate on the Atlantic Seaboard.

It was the second consecutive time that he defeated Sen. Robert A. Taft in the East in an election where both men's names were on the ballot.

Eisenhower, who carried all but one of New Jersey's 21 counties, won a minimum of 31 of the state's 39 Republican convention delegates. Four went to Taft, one to ex-Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota and two of those elected said they have not decided whom they will support.

A nearly-complete tally of the votes today, with 79 districts unreported out of 3184, showed:

Eisenhower — 370,509.
Taft — 219,786.
Stassen — 21,967.

The Democratic election went by default to Sen. Estes Kefauver, of Tennessee, the only entrant. He had 140,508 votes at the latest count.

When the vote is received from 447 missing districts, Kefauver's total is expected to be nearly 160,000.

The election put Eisenhower's total of delegates at 119. Taft now has 206, and may receive the support of two other New Jersey delegates.

Taft and his lieutenants took a cheerful view of the results from Jersey. "Maybe a little better than we expected," said the senator. "It's a moral victory," he said, "and 'surprising' his campaign leaders in the state declared. 'Eisenhower has made a poor showing,'" asserted John D. M. Hamilton, eastern seaboard chairman of the Taft organization.

These descriptions arose from the fact that Taft had petitioned to get out of the race, and refrained from a personal campaign. He claimed that Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll double-crossed him when Driscoll announced he would support Eisenhower. The Taft organization said Driscoll "stacked the cards" against the senator, throwing the full power of the state Republican organization into the drive for Eisenhower.

Driscoll denied all the accusations.

The governor said last night that Eisenhower scored "a truly remarkable victory," and showed himself to be "a clear choice of Republicans in this state."

Sen. James Duff of Pennsylvania, one of Eisenhower's national leaders, commented today, "when the voters get a fair chance to choose between the candidates, Eisenhower is the overwhelming favorite of the people."

Eisenhower himself saw partial returns this morning in France but remarked only about the relatively small vote. He said he understood somewhere near 1,000,000 were expected to ballot. The total vote is expected to hit 755,000 with about 605,000 of this in the GOP primary. The vote turned away further questions by reminding correspondents that he had said he would make no political statements until after his return from Europe, June 1.

The last time Eisenhower and Taft met in a head-on clash, with both on the ballot, was in New Hampshire, March 11. The general won that election, by 50.7 per cent to 49.3 for Taft.

His victory in New Jersey, in percentages, was more authoritative. It exceeded 60 per cent, with returns incomplete, to Taft's 36.1. Harold Stassen, trailing far behind, and a few hundred write-in votes for Gen. MacArthur and others made up the rest.

Taft came to the New Jersey election after three consecutive victories in mid-western contests. He racked up a massive victory in Illinois, and finished ahead in Wisconsin. Eisenhower was not entered in either race, but he received more than 100,000 write-in votes in Illinois.

Neither candidate was formally on the ballot in Nebraska, where Taft out-distanced Eisenhower in write-ins.

They will meet again, only on a write-in basis, in Massachusetts late this month. Taft is scheduled to leave immediately for a three-day tour of that state.

Gov. Signs Proposals To Let Voters Decide On Two Amendments

JEFFERSON CITY, (AP)—A second constitutional amendment proposal for the November ballot was approved today by Gov. Forrest Smith.

He explained the law doesn't require him to sign such resolutions passed by the legislature, but he did it anyway.

The one approved today would let school districts raise their debt limit from five to ten per cent by a two-thirds vote of the people.

Also on the ballot next November will be a proposal to limit the length of legislative sessions to five months and pay legislators $10 extra each day they answer the roll call.

This plan has won the approval of the Missouri public expenditure survey.

May Grant Steel Wage Seizure Hike Despite Industry Of Mills To Court

Administration Prepares Move Today But Industry Prepares to Fight Back

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Truman administration today prepared to go over the head of the seized steel companies and give a wage boost to Philip Murray's CIO steelworkers.

Whatever the terms may be, the steel industry was ready to fight back. Its attorneys had papers already drawn seeking a court order to restrain any payment of increased wages out of industry funds.

More than 100 of the country's leading industrialists stand behind the steel companies in a fight to the finish. They, or their representatives, pledged all-out co-operation at a meeting yesterday, called jointly by the National Association of Manufacturers and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

"Mr. Truman's action imposes upon Congress and the courts," the industrialists said in a statement, "the necessity of undoing his seizure of the steel mills, a step which places the freedom of every American in jeopardy."

Meantime, Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall had two scheduled appearances today to argue for the administration's stand that the steel industry is entitled to no more than a $3-a-ton price boost under stabilization laws.

Arnall was due to talk to the National Press Club and later he goes before the Senate Labor Committee.

Government-sponsored negotiations between the steel industry and Murray's union collapsed last night, with Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, boss of the steel industry under Truman's seizure, saying the time had come for the government to deal directly with the union.

"I shall proceed promptly but not precipitately to consider the terms and conditions of employment as I was instructed to do," Sawyer said last night.

The question therefore was not whether the government would deal directly with the union, but whether the government would grant in the way of pay increases and other benefits. No industry-union deal seemed possible.

A prominent government official, asking that his name not be used, said it seemed to him that Sawyer, acting for Truman, would give Murray the substance of the Wage Stabilization Board recommendations—a 12½-cent hourly pay boost plus other benefits. Additional pay raises of 2½ cents in July and next January were proposed by the WSB.

It was not considered likely that the government would give Murray the contested union shop arrangement—a clause requiring all steel workers to belong to Murray's union.

This has been one of the most bitterly debated issues of the steel dispute.

The WSB never recommended the full union shop, merely saying the companies and union should negotiate a "form" of the union shop.

The WSB also recommended extra Sunday pay for workers effective next Jan. 1. Any government deal with Murray could sidestep this issue for the present.

The administration's idea was that it might avoid incurring government financial liability under the seizure if it confined any wage increase to what the industry had offered in collective bargaining. But the industry was prepared to contest that as an invasion of its property rights.

Industry attorneys said privately that if the administration gave Murray more than the industry had offered in bargaining—the full wage board "package" including the union shop, for instance—they might be better able to demonstrate "damage" under seizure.

Oldest Pettis Countian Now Bedfast at Home—

Mrs. Belle Bobbitt, LaMonte, 102 Today

Mrs. Belle Bobbitt is 102 years old today, Wednesday, April 16. It is practically certain she is Pettis County's oldest living resident.

To make the occasion one of as much joy to her as possible, cards and letters of congratulations poured into her home, nine miles northwest of La Monte in the Dunkburg vicinity, where she is now confined to her bed.

This year the anniversary is a quiet one with a few near relatives and friends assembling at the home to wish her happy returns of the memorable occasion.

This year lacked the ostentation of her hundredth anniversary, two years ago, when over 100 relatives and friends gathered at her home in a very gay celebration.

Letter from President

Then letters were received from President Harry S. Truman, Governor Forrest Smith, of Missouri, and Governor Byrd of Virginia, her native state.

Mrs. Bobbitt was born in Highland County, Va., and moved to Cooper County in 1839. Soon after her marriage there to Thomas Bobbitt the couple moved to the farm in Pettis County where she now lives with her daughter, Mrs. Cora Bragunier. A son, Dexter Bobbitt, Sweet Springs, is her only other living child. Her husband died in 1911.

Mrs. Bobbitt, during the latter part of 1951, was in a nursing home at Warrensburg following an injury in a fall, but since about Christmas time last year she has been at home.

To Mo. Behind Ox Team

Mrs. Bobbitt is the daughter of William McCoy and Nancy Rickman Wade, being one of 12 children and the only one now living.

In coming to Missouri with her parents, the entire trip was made in an oxen-drawn covered wagon, a boat being used when necessary in crossing streams. The family has been Pettis County residents since 1865, being among the early day residents in development and progress of this part of the state.

Her husband was a native of Putnam County, Ky., and a Union veteran of the Civil War. Mr. Bobbitt was a successful farmer and stock raiser, specializing in the

Justice Department Gives Its Views That Truman's Move Was Constitutional

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was up to the federal courts today to decide whether President Truman's seizure of the nation's steel mills was constitutional.

The Justice Department, speaking for the Truman administration, set forth its views of the legality of the seizure in a brief filed with the U. S. District Court yesterday.

The Justice Department contended:

1. The seizure was fully in accordance with constitutional law.

2. There are a number of precedents for Truman's action.

Moved to Protect Nation

3. Truman didn't seize the steel mills to avoid a strike, but rather to protect this nation's military position "during this period of national emergency."

Five leading steel companies had challenged the seizure. They asked the court for a permanent injunction that would prohibit the President from taking over the mills.

The steel companies said the action was unconstitutional, that it caused them "irreparable damage" and that it was a step toward nationalization of the industry.

"Inherent Powers"

The Justice Department's reply, prepared by Assistant Attorney General Holmes Baldridge, said Truman acted under the "inherent powers" it said are spelled out in Article II of the constitution. This article says:

"The executive power shall be vested in the President of the United States (that he) shall be commander-in-chief of the Army and Navy of the United States (and that) he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed."

The brief outlined as the government's position "that the authority of the President to meet the existing crisis through a seizure in the form here made is clearly established by the constitution, by historical precedent, and by court decisions, and that this court is without authority to enjoin presidential action so motivated and taken."

Number of Precedents

As for historical precedent, it listed a number of cases dating back to 1812. Among them:

1. President Lincoln blockaded the Southern ports prior to the outbreak of the war between the states. The Supreme Court upheld the act with the statement that "the constitution confers on the President the whole executive power."

2. Lincoln took over the railroad and telegraph lines between Washington and Annapolis, Md., in 1861. Congress followed with legislation affirming the action.

The department said virtually all congressmen who spoke for the bill recognized "the inherent constitutional powers to take the railroads and telegraph lines if he thought it necessary, in the exercise of his war powers."

Cleveland Acted In '94

3. President Cleveland in 1894 sent troops into Chicago after the government won an injunction to halt a railway strike. The department asserted that the Supreme Court upheld the action, saying "the strong arm of the national government may be put forth to brush away all obstructions to the freedom of interstate commerce or the transportation of the mails."

Steel Hike Boosts C. of L.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Price Director Ellis Arnall said today the $12 a ton price increase asked by the steel industry to offset a wage hike recommended by the government would increase the cost of living for everyone "at least five per cent."

"The steel price line can be substantially held," he said, "and I intend to hold it."

Arnall said the proposed price boost "would add $300 a year to the average family budget" and might set off a continuing upward spiral in prices of many items.

Home Purchased in '68

The farm home she occupies was purchased by Mr. Bobbitt in 1868. Three years after he was mustered out of service following the close of the Civil War.

Mrs. Bobbitt is the oldest member of Mt. Zion Christian Church of Dunkburg and attended services regularly as long as she was able and her contributions to the various needs and activities of her church have been many and generous.

In late years her sight failed and she does not hear well and these two things which she cherished so dearly, but her off to a large measure from the world that she had always enjoyed to the fullest.

When her vision permitted, in years gone by, she read extensively and kept up on current events.

Passing through a century and more that brought great changes in economic and other affairs as well as in home life, she considers the long years she has been spared to her family and friends as well worth all the endeavors she put forth to reach such a "ripe old age."

Omaha and Council Bluffs Get Set to Hold Off Mighty River

BULLETIN
OMAHA, April 16—P—President Truman said after a briefing on the unprecedented midwestern floods that "It's time for action, we've fooled around long enough."

OMAHA, Neb., (AP)—The guard was up today against a flood punch hardly anyone thought the mad Missouri River could throw. And the river was ready with that punch after leaving much of its valley in misery.

The slashing and tearing river—most savage of several creating havoc in the rich Midwest area—is due to hit the Omaha and Council Bluffs area early tomorrow with a crest of 31.5 feet, much more than man built his best flood walls and levees to stand normally against the Missouri. The walls were originally built for a 26.6 crest.

To meet the Missouri's maddened march, the walls and levees have been hiked by flash boards, more dirt, sandbags, almost everything that an estimated 14,600 workers—Army men and civilians—could throw up.

In this area the Army Engineers have staked a lot. Some 34,000 persons have been moved out of sections of Council Bluffs that will be flooded if there is a "blow out" and 5,000 in Omaha. In the Bluffs that is two-thirds of the population.

This is the scene that President Truman will view by air at midday as he flies into Omaha to talk over the job of putting the dispossessed back on their feet once the water is gone. He will meet with the governors of 7 of the states that have been or may expect to be punished by the Missouri, Mississippi and other smaller streams.

The big question is whether the Omaha-Council Bluffs protections will be able to hold back the biggest Missouri flood the white man has ever seen, and which has already ravaged areas of the Dakotas, Nebraska and Iowa.

Lt. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, chief of the Army Engineers, thinks there's a good chance the Missouri can be manhandled here. If it can't, then the river has scored its biggest victory—for every effort has been made here to stop the marauder.

Not only does the general, who drew these plans against the river when he was Missouri Basin engineer, think the river can be contained in this metropolitan area. But he believes it can be stopped from mauling man's homes and lands on southward.

Drawing heavily upon the Fifth Army manpower to reinforce the hosts of civilians who answered the call of need, the engineers chief says he believes the federally constructed works will hold every (Please turn to Page 8, Column 5)

All Population Is Evacuated At Craig, Mo.

Crest Yet to Come Into Mo. and Kan.; Great Loss Already

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Missouri River flood waters inched upward today to engulf more land, breach more barriers and drive more lowland dwellers to the hills.

With the crest yet to come in the 150-mile stretch from the Iowa line to Leavenworth, the army engineers reported today more than 60,000 acres of land under water; more than 6,000 persons displaced and 57 levees breached in that section of the river.

A revised crest forecast was issued last night by the weather bureau for St. Joseph. A stage of 27 feet is indicated for next Sunday. This would be within 2 of a foot of the previous high mark of 1881.

Forecastis Unchanged

Forecasts for other points below there remained unchanged.

Figures, however, failed to tell the story of the struggle. Typical of the dozens of battles against the river was that at Craig, Mo., in Holt County.

This town of 700 was 95 percent evacuated with the residents moving to other towns and into abandoned farm homes.

Hope of saving the town from inundation lay in bolstering the levee, between the town and the river. The headquarters and Headquarters Battery of the 129th Field Artillery, Maryville, was called to duty at Craig.

Temporary levees were expected to protect the town from the backwaters of the Big Tarkio Creek.

J. E. Thompson, on duty with the Red Cross at Craig, credited careful preparations made last week with effecting orderly evacuation. The only business place open was a cafe.

All available men and equipment were working on the west levee.

Seek Marooned Men

The Coast Guard, on duty at Craig, today sought to reach two men marooned by the waters. One was Art Green, a tenant farmer, who had refused to leave. This morning he was calling for help from a tree on a sand bar. The other man was Fred Collins, who was cut off about a mile south of where Green was cut off by the waters.

The Maryville National Guard unit was called out upon request of Dr. I. F. Dopp, mayor of Craig. It is commanded by Major Walter Wilson.

In calling out the unit, Maj. Gen. A. D. Sheppard, state adjutant general, said Major Wilson would report today as to whether additional units are needed.

All the residents of Corning, seven miles northwest of Craig, had moved out. This morning there was four feet of water on the main street.

Laborers Go On Strike At Air Base

Picket at Front Gate Wednesday Signals Walkout

Pickets at the front gate of the Sedalia Air Force Base, south of Knob Noster, at 6:30 a.m. Wednesday signified a strike had been called against the G.W.L. Construction Co., Little Rock, Ark., contractors. The strike, it was reported, was called by Noble Boyd, business representative of International Hod Carriers, Building and Common Labor Union of America, Local 1125, of the AFL.

Boyd, whose home is in Warrensburg, said the strike was over wages and working conditions of laborers employed by the G.W.L. Construction Co. He said that when the G.W.L. Co. went on the base, and prior to the starting of work, that he, Boyd, had talked with Mr. Garrison of the company and informed him the Local Associated General Contractors wage scale was $13.25 per hour for common labor.

"Since the company has paid only $12.25 cents an hour wages since beginning work about 45 days ago, and has made no effort to increase the wages, I felt it necessary to call the strike," Boyd said. "The government, on Dec. 3, 1951, passed a law making the common labor scale at $1.73 and that is what we will ask when we meet with company representatives," Boyd continued.

At the air base, Fred W. Garrison, one of the owners of the construction company, in talking with a newspaper reporter, said he had not received any complaints, nor did he have any direct knowledge at this time what the strike was called for. "No one has approached me regarding the wages," Mr. Garrison said, adding, "I have no further comment to make at this time."

Later Mr. Garrison said, "We are operating within the limits of all congressional acts at this time, paying labor wages and providing labor working conditions."

Boyd said he talked with V. P. Clark, field superintendent for the construction company Wednesday morning and informed him he was willing to discuss the matter.

It also was pointed out the strike is not against the Air Force nor against the U. S. Corps of Engineers, which supervises the work and through whom construction contracts are let.

A lone picket at the gate to the base carried a sign lettered: G.W.L. Construction Co. is not paying the labor scale of wages. Labor District Council of Kansas City, AFL."

About 25 laborers are affected by the strike. They met at the Labor Hall in Knob Noster to discuss the situation early Wednesday.

It was reported some plumbers working at the base on a sub-contract from the G.W.L. company honored the picket line while some of the carpenters went in to work.

It was reported at noon a meeting was anticipated in the afternoon between the construction company representatives and representatives of the union.

The G.W.L. Construction Co., has the contract for the rehabilitation of barracks buildings and other buildings on the base. These buildings are being rehabilitated into ten-year buildings. Several barracks buildings have been completed under the program and several others are in the process.

Two truck drivers, members of the Teamsters Union, Local 334, Sedalia, refused to cross the picket line today and remained away from work until the dispute is settled.

Sedalia Phones Normal

Operators Return To Jobs Wednesday After Being Off Duty Since Sunday

Sedalia's telephone service returned to normal, Wednesday at 6 a.m. when operators returned to their switchboards after having been off duty since Sunday forenoon.

Members of the local union had refused to cross a picket line established by the Western Electric union Sunday morning. The picket was on duty from about 7 a.m. until 12:20 p.m. that day. Operators who were on duty Sunday morning completed their shifts, but none reported for work after the 6 a.m. shift Wednesday went to work.

Supervisory personnel, who had been maintaining service as best they could during the period the operators were away, left the switchboards to the regular operators when they reported for duty.

All Southwestern Bell Except St. Louis "Normal"

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. reported early today that its union employees are back on the job throughout the firm's five-state territory with the exception of the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Striking workers of the affiliated Western Electric Co. had removed pickets from all Southwestern Bell Exchanges except in St. Louis, St. Louis County, East St. Louis and Granite City, Ill., the company said.

There were no pickets at nearby Bellefonte, Ill., where Southwestern Bell obtained an injunction barring picketing, but workers remained off the job there and at the other exchanges of greater St. Louis.

Back In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Union employees of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in the St. Louis area were ordered by union officials today to start returning to their jobs with the 4 p.m. shift.

All-Night, All-Out Negotiations Adjourned

NEW YORK (AP)—An all-night, all-out federal mediation huddle with union and management representatives was adjourned early today with "no progress" reported in the key telephone strike in 43 states.

But federal mediator Francis L. Mahor told newsmen that the parties will resume talks this afternoon.

The mediators, at the start of round-the-clock talks last night, said they intended to keep the CIO Communications Workers of America and the Western Electric Company "in continuous session with the hope of arriving at an agreement."

Agreement in the Western Electric wage dispute would be the biggest stride yet to labor peace in the nation's wire communications field.

Only 16,000 CWA members. Mostly installers, are striking against Western Electric, the manufacturing subsidiary of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

But their hit-and-run tactic of shifting picket lines from place to place has threatened to tie up telephone exchanges in Washington, D.C., and the 43 states where Western Electric has plants. The union claimed hundreds of thousands of phone workers were prepared to honor the strikers' lines.

This picket line maneuver also has resulted in an uneasy phone communications peace in Ohio, Michigan and New Jersey, where more than 40,000 CWA striking telephone operators and other personnel already have settled with the A.T.&T. subsidiaries.

Workers in these states agreed to work after obtaining pay rises of $4 to $7 a week, but the Western Electric picket lines continued to threaten service at some times.

He picked up a ruler and pointed it at the map of Germany in the heart of Europe.

"If and when the Russians are ready for war, we will know it here first," he went on. "But it will not be in 1952. The Russians aren't ready. And Stalin can wait."

"We will know a year in advance. Right now we know that their communications and transport are in no shape to start a war. We know they lack faith in their satellite armies and populations. We know they would need large numbers of troops to hold what they have now. We know they lack the technical and economic resources on a scale permitting war. We know they are intent on maintaining the status quo in the West while they go about their business in the East."

Many Western diplomats agree with this assessment. Some think the war will come eventually, but most express the belief that what is going on today is a long-range holding action.

The consensus here, at the edge of the smoldering volcano, appears to be that the Soviet Union is intent now upon holding whatever it can in the West, protecting its Western flank, while consolidating and pushing forward in the Orient.

Thus, goes the reasoning, the entire program in Europe today appears to be aimed at paralyzing the Western Europeans' will to resist—to render Western Europe impotent and neutral. It seems as if Moscow were convinced that with Europe neutralized, the continent must inevitably come under the Kremlin's domination.

The Communists are bending every effort toward what they call "national resistance" to the United States, to bog down Western European defense efforts. They appeal to the self-interest of Western European businessmen to turn their backs on the U. S. They tell the worker he is being "super-exploited" by the Americans.

In the drive to neutralize Western Europe, the prime target is Germany. There are competent observers in Western Europe who speculate that Stalin would even be prepared to dump the whole East German Communist party if he could achieve the goal of a German vacuum in the heart of Europe, dominated by the might of Soviet arms on the East and leading the West down the road to enforced neutrality. Economic domination by Moscow would not be too distant a goal.

Stalin now says the time is ripe for talks on unification of Germany. He has let it be known he is willing for Germany to be unified with its own army, sufficient to defend itself. This was a shock to the Communists, long playing on the fear of a rearmament of Germany, but it was a strong dose of medicine for West Germany, which wants nothing more than unification without occupation.

Stalin might go even further in his desperate bid to keep a flourishing Western Germany out of the Atlantic defense community. He might even consent to some sort of revision of the German-Polish border.

The Poles are expendable. They occupy what formerly was German territory up to the Oder-Niese line. It is not too far-fetched to image Stalin's throwing a sop to Germany in the form of a revision at the expense of Poland.

The Communist party is weak. At the height of the slave trade, it is estimated that about half the Negroes shipped from Africa to America died before they became effective laborers in the field.

27 Words Today Mean No End To Truce Deadlock

MUNSAN (AP)—Korean truce supervision negotiators took only 20 seconds today to decide they had nothing new to say on their double-barreled deadlock.

The delegates exchanged only 27 words. They agreed to meet again tomorrow. In the past six sessions, they have met for a total of only four minutes and 20 seconds.

The two sides are locked over Red nomination of Russia as a neutral truce observer and the Allied demand for a ban on the rebuilding of military airfields during an armistice.

The Allies delayed again any move toward resuming off-the-record talks on exchanging prisoners of war—the third key issue still unresolved. The Reds said Sunday they were ready to resume the talks.

The talks on prisoners have been in recess since April 4 while both sides separately explore possible solutions. The Allies had demanded voluntary repatriation; the Reds had insisted on the mandatory return of all prisoners of war.

In Gambia, Northwest Africa, many people live in Sin, which is the name of a town, says the National Geographic Society.

In Khartoum, Sudan, it has not rained in February for 40 years.

Ingrid's Letter To Husband Made Public In Court

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"It was not my intention to fall in love and go to Italy forever. After all our plans and dreams, you know that is true. But how can I help it or change it?"

So wrote Ingrid Bergman to her first husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, in a letter confessing her love for Robert Rossellini, the Italian movie director.

The letter, dated April 3, 1949, was filed in court yesterday with an affidavit as Lindstrom began a fight to keep their daughter Jenny Ann, 13, from visiting the actress in Italy this summer.

"I know how this letter falls like a bomb on our house... Our future, our past, so filled with sacrifice and help on your part," Miss Bergman wrote. "And now you stand alone in the ruins and I am unable to help you."

Miss Bergman had a child by Rossellini after she went to Italy to make a film for him. Three months later he announced they had been married by proxy in Mexico, after she had obtained a mail order divorce. Dr. Lindstrom was awarded a divorce here Nov. 2, 1950, with the custody of Jenny Ann.

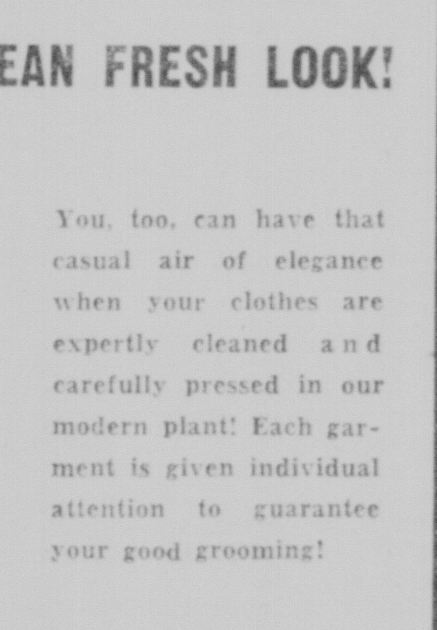

The actress had asked for Jenny Ann's custody in the divorce suit.

Connally Has Been Senate Attraction

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate is like a political delicatessen. It has a variety of men and opinions, garnished with dignity and over-spiced with oratory. If there's a show of ham, that's not surprising.

Tom Connally has been one of its main attractions for years, a man of wit and charm, and with many moods that he can use as he pleases for the effect he wants: gay, angry, furious, comical.

He looks more like an actor than any man in the place, with his straggly white hair always curling over the back of his collar. And his clothes are as regular as a costume: dark blue suit, black bow tie, boiled shirt, glistening gold studs.

As chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee he is one of the most important men in the country. It's through his committee that most of this country's foreign program must pass for a pat or a pasting.

He's been in Congress 35 years and now he's 74, still active, still bright, and still wishing he could keep his job. But he was to come up for re-election in Texas this year and a younger man wants his seat.

Texas' attorney general, 41-year-old Price Daniel, has been campaigning for months. Yesterday the senator called a news conference. He tried to make what he said sound casual and matter-of-fact, like other conferences in the past.

But this one was different because he was different. He was in a new mood. He was sad, and he couldn't disguise it behind an occasional shaft of wit. He would not run for re-election, he said.

The job of senator, he said, had become enormous, enough to wear any man down. And although his friends assured him he could win if he ran, he said, he'd have to campaign hard and he didn't think it was worth it.

He may have been farsighted in deciding not to run again because reports from Texas say Daniel had a good chance of beating the old man if he tried for re-election.

Connally is one of three old senators who are like a bridge between the past and the present in the Senate. The other two, also Democrats like Connally, are McKellar of Tennessee and Hoey of North Carolina.

Like Connally, Hoey is 74. In length of service, when compared with Connally, he's only a boy. He's been in the Senate eight years. Since his term doesn't end until 1956, this year's elections don't endanger him.

He's strictly from the old school: a wing collar, a flower in his lapel, and always an English walking stick, with pants to match. He alternates between blue and gray.

McKellar is dean of the three in age and service. He's 83 and has been in Congress 41 years. McKellar has neither the wit nor charm of Connally. He has a famous temper and as the years' trudge over his head he seems to talk less although he's chairman of the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee.

McKellar is in the same fix as Connally. He's up for re-election this year and a younger man is busily trying to unseat him. This is Congressman Albert Gore, 45, who has been canvassing the state for months.

McKellar's office said yesterday he is definitely seeking re-election. But this has not been a good year for oldtimers, as Connally understands.

After all, the top oldtimer of them all bowed out just a couple of weeks ago when President Truman said he was through after a lifetime in politics.

TO RETIRE—Senator Tom Connally of Texas, above, is shown as he announced to newsmen in Washington that he has decided to retire rather than face a stiff battle for re-election. The chairman of the powerful Senate Foreign Relations committee, he has served in the Senate for 23 years and in the House for 12 years. (NEA TELEPHOTO)

Crop-Dusting Costly
BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP)—Crop dusting by plane is 24 times as dangerous as driving an auto. The comparison was made by David Nelson, chief of safety operations, Civil Aeronautics Commission, before a Montana State College pest control course.

Nelson said 197 pilots had been killed, 202 seriously injured, 400 planes destroyed and an estimated three million dollars lost in crop dusting operations in the past five years.

Aunt Hettie Had Own Remedies For Psychology

By DOROTHY ROE
AP WOMEN'S EDITOR

Aunt Hettie used to call it "the vapors" when periodically she decided life was too much and retreated to her couch with a supply of cologne, chocolates and French novels.

Today Aunt Hettie would be diagnosed as suffering from "psychosomatic" illness, and might turn to psychoanalysis to cure her vague aches and pains.

And even if Hettie were a normal, healthy woman when she first visited her analyst, she would be pretty certain to have developed a thriving neurosis by the time she had completed a couple of years of treatments, says Andrew Salter, well known New York practicing psychologist, whose book, "The Case Against Psychoanalysis," (Henry Holt & Company) is published this week. Salter has stirred up previous flurries in Freudian circles with numerous scientific articles and a former book, "Conditioned Reflex Therapy."

Salter feels strongly about the current vogue for rushing to a psychoanalyst. Even if you do feel down in the dumps, he says, it may not be because you hated your mother; it may be the result of a slight touch of biliousness.

People who have too much time on their hands are the ones most likely to turn to psychoanalysis in search of perfect happiness, says Salter.

TELEVISION
We Repair
ALL MAKES

Discussing "psychosomatic" illness, Salter admits that many physical ailments stem from mental upsets. A few such manifestations include ulcers, shingles, high blood pressure and migraine.

But he doesn't believe the cure-all for these ills is lying on an analyst's couch two or three times a week for several years.

The old-fashioned country doctor, with his "bedside manner," probably was just as skilled at psychotherapy as some of our high-priced experts of today, says Salter, explaining:

"The country doctor managed to reassure his patients if he had a successful bedside manner. This gave them confidence, which had definite physical results. It stimulated their adrenal and pituitary glands, and all of a sudden they felt better. That's practical psychiatry."

For women who use psychoanalysis as a never-ending topic for conversation, he has this advice:

"Take up gardening, golf or child-raising. It will do you more good, and keep you too busy to worry about yourself."

At 100 miles above sea level, a cubic foot of space contains only about one three millionths as much air as the same space at sea level.

Birthday Party For Youngsters

By MRS. LYNN RUSSELL
405 Dal-Whi-Mo

How about a "Walt Disney" birthday party for the small fry in your home.

A colorful cloth on the table and a small bunch of spring flowers in the center is always most alluring to children. If you are gifted at copying pictures—"Walt Disney" animals for place favors or if it is so that you can't copy animals you can cut them from the Walt Disney comic books and mount them on card board. Be sure and write the name on the card which represents the animal as "Thumper" the rabbit, "Flower" the striped kitty, etc. It makes it more interesting.

If the party is for little girls—"Snow White" can be worked out. Have the "Snow White" favor for the birthday miss. The drawings and animals for the rest of the guests.

A small boy's party could be the "Wizard of Oz" or "Sleeping Beauty". He could be the "Prince Charming".

The ice cream and cakes would be cut into the form of animals from brick ice cream. Get the three colored bricks and divide the colors, cutting them apart. Cut the animals and put back in dry ice until time to use. Cakes, cup cake size can be iced in appropriate colors or cut cakes from sheet cakes that are made thin.

on will see how pleased the birthday child and guests will be.

British Double-Decker Buses Attract Crowd During Lunch Stop Here at Noon Tuesday

A Sedalia "lunch stop" turned into an "official visit" for the Buses from Britain Coast-to-Coast Goodwill Tour Tuesday afternoon. It was all due to the many Sedalians who went to the junction of Highways 65 and 50 to see the caravan and were invited to inspect the interior of one of the double-deck buses.

It was only a short time after their arrival that word got around the buses were parked on Highway 50 just west of the Wheel Inn, where the 14 members of the caravan were having their lunch. Sedalians drove out and stood around looking until one of the conductors opened up the bus and let the people get inside to look it over.

Although many had seen double-decker buses, about 99 per cent of those there hadn't seen the British version. A few veterans of World War II, who happened to get to England during those dark days, saw them and told stories about riding in them.

The caravan ran behind schedule, "but a few more minutes delay wouldn't bother too much," was the remark of one of the conductors. So he unlocked the door and let the people get a first hand look. Alistair McClean, manager of the British Travel Association in London, England, was a little worried about the delay—but not too much when he saw the enjoyment the Sedalians, young and old, were having in getting a "quick look."

George Gwynn, a busman since 1912, who holds 27 yearly driving awards, decided it a good idea to "open up." He invited those who wanted to climb aboard to look over his pride-and-joy. On the inside were the original car cards and 56 seats, unchanged for the tour; and its route signs imply its destination is Liverpool Street via Westminster Abbey and Charing Cross.

Here More Than Hour

The "lunch stop" was supposed to have been for little more than a half-hour turned into a stop-over of more than an hour and a half. The English men and women enjoyed it just as much as the Sedalians who were fortunate enough to learn they were here.

Detours are a big factor in making the schedule run late. The arrival at Jefferson City was delayed several hours because of this. Low bridges and overpasses of railroads are the cause. The two deck buses are 14½ feet high and the majority of the overpasses and bridges seem to have little more than 13 feet clearance. Because of this situation, rerouting has become necessary. State and city highway officials surveyed miles of roads to plot a clear route for the caravan.

Rerouted Thru Sedalia

Because special routes are necessary and complex detours took the buses into such unlikely places as the wrong-way on cloverleaf approaches to parkways or through winding, off-the-beaten track secondary roads, State Highway Patrol and city police escorts have been necessary for much of the journey.

From Jefferson City the caravan had little trouble. The Missouri Pacific overpass just east of the Sedalia city limits, made it necessary to take the old Highway 50 gravel road for about a quarter of a mile. Then instead of coming on in on 50 and through Sedalia, because of the M-K-T overpass and lowhanging wires and some trees, it was necessary to detour again south on Marshall to 16th, thence west to Limit or Highway 65, thence north back to 50 Highway.

One an Information Center

The real cockney conductors, dressed in their regular uniforms, are drivers of the buses. The bus which Sedalians saw the interior of Tuesday is just as it was when it took its last jaunt through Piccadilly Circus.

Another of the three-deckers is staffed by two attractive British girls from the British Travel Association's New York staff. It is equipped as a mobile information center with pictures of famous British scenes. The third bus is a rolling workshop, carrying tools and supplies. Completing the caravan are a maintenance truck, a small British made Ford van, and an Austin pilot car—all painted in a flashing bus red.

On Goodwill Tour

The English party is on a goodwill tour, but the members are enjoying the good old American hamburgers. As one member said, "meat is rather scarce in England, but these hamburgers are tops on our stops." They were asked if they were enjoying steaks. "Well yes," came the reply, "but we are anxious to get to Kansas City to get some real Kansas City steaks."

The group had nothing but praise for Missouri's highway system. They also paid compliment to Missourians and their hospitality. Appreciation was also expressed on the manner the State Highway Patrol was escorting them across Missouri and to the city police departments which gave them assistance on entering the various cities and towns.

The tour manager, Mr. McLean, is a native of Great Britain, born in London and reared in Scotland. He was a British army officer during the recent war. He has twice previously visited the U. S., spent considerable time in both Africa and Canada.

Edwin Thomas Bonny, 55, is leader of the London Transport Executive Crew selected for the tour. Bonny is inspector of rolling stock of the bus lines. He was in the Royal Flying Corps in World War I.

Drove Bus In War
Gwynn is a veteran of the British army. He went to Flanders in October 1914 as a volunteer driver of the open-top double-deck omnibuses which were pressed into service as troop transports on the Western Front in World War I. These buses, nicknamed "Old Bills" after the Bruce Bairnsfather cartoon character, went up to the rear trenches within German artillery fire.

Edwin Hearne, 55, a driver, who has 25 safe driving awards, is with the group.

One's Hubby Is Yank

The two attractive British girls are Miss Edna Cater, of Barnstaple, North Devon, and Mrs. Pamela MacDonnell, of Ruislip, Middlesex. Mrs. MacDonnell is the wife of Mark MacDonnell, New York attorney, whom she met while he was in the U. S. Army in London.

The caravan started its tour of the U. S. on March 24 and will make 8,000 miles before returning to New York the first part of July. In most states only two stops are made, being in the principal cities. Others, where the route accommodates, stop at the capital city of the state. After the two-day stop in Kansas City the caravan will head south, taking the southern route to California to visit Los Angeles, and San Francisco, and then start back over the north route, via Salt Lake City, Denver, and on northward through Milwaukee, Chicago, and on to Boston and back to New York.

The English members of the caravan with the buses are to leave New York for England on July 11.

Central College Band to Play Here Sunday

The Central College band, that for the past several years has delighted audiences of up to 10,000 in performances throughout the state, will appear in concert at the Smith-Cotton High School auditorium at 8 p. m. on Sunday, April 20. This will be during its 27th annual tour under the direction of Prof. Keith K. Anderson. The band is presented by the Swinney Conservatory of Music at Central College, Fayette.

The varied band repertoire ranges from the exacting classical standards of Bach through the modern tempos of such jazz arrangements as "Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho" and includes, of course, the marches like "Stars and Stripes Forever" that never fail to thrill band music lovers.

"You've never heard band music until you've heard the Central aggregation," a reporter for the Kansas City Star wrote recently. That was when the band and Professor Anderson, for the third straight year, were invited to provide the music for an enthusiastic crowd of nearly 10,000 at the opening "Parade of Champions" of the NAIB basketball tournament. "It wouldn't seem like a tournament without the Central band swinging out," wrote Bill Moore in the Star.

During its tour this spring, the concert band — 40 musicians chosen from the ranks of the 100 piece Central marching band — will visit 20 towns in the western part of the state. Evening concerts will be presented at Sedalia, Butler, Independence, Trenton, Chillicothe, Salisbury, St. Joseph and Leavenworth, Kan.

Soloists and ensembles featured include a popular trumpet trio composed of Joe Labuta, St. Louis; Jack Walker, Bucklin and Harry Hoffman, Overland. A clarinet quartet, which will play the difficult "Flight of the Bumblebee" by Rimsky-Korsakov, is composed of Misses Nancy Heitmann, Lincoln, Ill.; Beverly Briggs, Marceline; Sandra Cavanah, Marceline and Shirley Yeoman, Lexington.

Miss Cavanah also is presented as a soprano soloist with the band, and Donald Panhorst, St. Clair, is saxophone soloist.

The band's program will be selected from a repertoire which includes: "Chorale and Fugue in G Minor," Bach; "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," Bach; Prelude to Act III of "Kunihild," Kistler; "Death and Transfiguration (Finale)," Strauss and "Humoresque," Tschaiakowsky, in the classical field.

"March and Scherzo," Prokofiev; "Legend," Creston; "Git On Board," arranged by Yoder; "The Syncopeated Clock," Anderson; "Joshua," Yoder and "Fayanne," Gould, among the modern and popular selections.

Marches used on the tour programs include "British Eighth," "Band of America," "Stars and Stripes," "World Events," "Marcho Poco," and "March of the Steel Men."

In addition to its annual spring tour, the band appears each year before audiences of 2,000 or more in the Music Hall of the Kansas City Municipal Auditorium and in the Opera House of Kiel Auditorium, St. Louis. Each time it has won praise from music critics. Last year a reviewer wrote that "the band's success would seem to stem from fine leadership which engenders a fluency of style and tonal exactness."

The program at Sedalia will be under the sponsorship of the Methodist churches.

Bob Stanley, son of Mrs. Dorothy Stanley of Sedalia, is a member of the Central College band and will appear with the group.

There will be no admission, but a free will offering will be taken.

Boy Swallows Toy Badge of a Deputy

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A seven-year-old El Reno boy was almost a permanent deputy sheriff. He swallowed a toy badge while playing with his friends.

The youngster, James Russell Harner, didn't say anything about his experience to his parents right away, but complained of a sore throat early yesterday morning. After she learned the story, his anxious mother, Mrs. R. C. Harner, rushed him to a doctor for X-rays. The badge was lodged in his throat, causing it to swell.

State troopers brought him to an Oklahoma City hospital where physicians removed the badge without surgery.

Smith-Cotton High News— SCHS Asked to Take German Exchange Student Next Year

By Ruth Maurine Hoffman
Smith-Cotton has been asked to accept a German student next year under the program sponsored by the American Field Service International Scholarships.

This arrangement will provide for the student to return to his native country with a clear, true picture of American life.

Some American family in this community is needed to care for the pupil. Such a family does not need to have children in Smith-Cotton. The most important fact is that the student should live in the home as a member of the family, sharing both in duties and pleasures. The family would have the same supervision over the student as over its own children.

The Sedalia board of education has agreed to take care of the tuition. Traveling expenses, personal allowances, health and accident insurance, etc., for the pupil will be covered by U. S. Government grants. However, the cost of maintaining the student in the home must be met either by the family itself or by the sponsoring community.

Depending on the preference of the family, either a boy or girl will be selected. The German student will be of highest character with a sound scholastic background and an adaptable, friendly personality. He will speak English.

Any family desiring further information is requested to contact Smith-Cotton.

Penney Co. Golden Jubilee Opens In Country Tomorrow

Paul Hedderich, manager of the J. C. Penney Company store in Sedalia, announced today the formal opening tomorrow of the company's Golden Jubilee.

"This is a great occasion for us, a time for celebration," said Mr. Hedderich. "In just 50 years this company has grown from a family, tiny store in southwestern Wyoming to a great retail merchandising organization — the largest of its kind in the world — with more than 1,600 stores and 70,000 associates serving nearly 40 million people.

"That's a monumental achievement in which all of us can take pride. For where else, but in our own United States of America, could such an achievement be possible?" In the words inscribed on our medallion, the Penney Company has grown — is growing — with this nation.

"Ours is a success story, not of one man alone but of many men. Early in his career our founder, J. C. Penney, realized that he would succeed only if others found success with him. Eventually he became known as the 'man with a thousand partners' — and thereby pioneered a profit-sharing idea which contributed much to the company's success.

EL RENO, Okla. (AP)—For the third time in a week this city shook onto its hat as the ground shook in two distinct earthquakes.

The tremors, which struck at about midnight and 12:05 a. m. today were felt also in parts of Oklahoma City and nearby Union City. Other cities in the vicinity did not feel the quake. No damage was reported.

A week ago today the first earthquake of the current series hit the midwest. That one shook buildings in seven states.

Seismologists placed the center of the first disturbance near Oklahoma City and said it was caused by a four inch shift in a deeply buried mountain range which stretches from Texas to Nebraska.

W. E. Maughn, Oklahoma City weather observer, said additional light quakes can be expected following the first one.

"It will be Mother Earth smoothing out her blanket from Iowa to Texas," said Maughn.

Telephone operators at El Reno reported the new tremor knocked out every drop line on the board. The reformers here and all the inmates were awakened.

Observers described it as about half as strong as the original shocks last week.

Capt. Harold W. Knox, on the police radio desk here, said he was sitting in his chair when the building shook.

"I threw my paper down and started outside," he said. I was standing on the street when the second one hit.

A woman at Oklahoma City reported to police she awoke and saw the bed move. She wanted officers to find out if there was a man hiding underneath.

Ask Court to End Hughes-Jarrio Feud

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Screen Writers Guild has asked a court to order arbitration of the dispute between Howard Hughes, head of RKO studio, and writer Paul Jarrio.

Nub of the dispute is whether Jarrio shall receive screen credit for his work on an RKO movie, Hughes, who fired Jarrio because he refused to answer a congressional committee's questions about communism, claims the writer is not entitled to credit because his work was discarded and the script rewritten by others.

Cut Rail Line In 38 Places With Air Raids

SEOUL (AP)—U.S. Shooting Stars and Thunderjets today cut the North Korean rail line between Kunu and Huichon in 38 places.

North of Haeju, on North Korea's West Coast, four U.S. warplanes destroyed two bridges and killed 10 Red soldiers caught in the open.

The fighter-bombers roared to the attack through heavy clouds under a protective screen of F-86 Sabre jets.

A flurry of Red probing jets on the Western Front Tuesday evening touched off an Allied artillery barrage that lasted most of the night.

Sound of the big guns could be heard in Seoul, more than 40 miles south.

The Reds jabbed into lines at four places west and north of Musan. Three probes were hurled back. The fourth, supported by 600 rounds of artillery and mortar, drove U.N. troops from an advance position.

In the same area, a Red outpost repulsed two assaults by an Allied patrol.

The action marked a shift of Communist pressure from the Eastern and East-Central sectors.

Allied night bombers attacked Communist supply lines Tuesday night. B-26 pilots reported 28 trucks destroyed, B-29 Superforts attacked the Chongju rail bridge and Communist front lines.

Naval and marine warplanes from American carriers pounded both coasts of North Korea Tuesday. Pilots from the Philippine Sea and Boxer attacked rail targets in the Hamhung - Wonsan - Yangdok triangle on the East. Across the Peninsula, Marine fliers from the Bairoko reported destruction of more than 100 buildings and six gun positions.

Ike N. J. Win Shows No Need For Campaign

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's smashing New Jersey primary victory appeared today to have convinced some of his backers he won't have to campaign vigorously for the Republican presidential nomination.

Before New Jersey Republicans gave the five-star general a 130,000 vote margin over Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, one influential Eisenhower campaigner told this reporter he believed the North Atlantic Treaty Organization military commander had "pulled a boner" last week in saying he had no plans to campaign.

This Eisenhower backer, who didn't want to be quoted by name, said he regarded it as a mistake for the general to say he wouldn't resign from the Army unless or until he were nominated at Chicago.

But the New Jersey results appear to have bolstered the belief of many of the Eisenhower backers that the general can come home in June, make a few selected speeches and go into the convention with a good chance for the nomination.

They argue that campaigning such as Taft has done across the land would only involve Eisenhower in detailed domestic issues which he otherwise could treat with broad brush strokes. Primary tests in Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Oregon and several state conventions will shed more light on this theory before Eisenhower's return.

If Eisenhower's victory was substantial in New Jersey, Taft's defeat there apparently was not crushing nor overly damaging to his nomination chances.

The Ohio senator appeared to have salvaged from three of six of the state's 38 delegates besides running up a respectable vote total for a candidate who tried to get his name off the ballot, and failing that, didn't campaign.

John D. M. Hamilton, Taft's Eastern manager, claimed a "moral victory" for whatever that kind of a victory is worth.

Even if his attempted political withdrawal was only a political maneuver—as the Eisenhower forces charged and Taft men denied—the Ohioan took the sting out of a defeat that might have been a serious setback if it had come after he had campaigned actively in New Jersey.

Although he has ruled out any write-in efforts in his behalf in Pennsylvania, Taft plans a three-day tour of Massachusetts before that state's April 29 primary. He and Eisenhower may meet on a write-in basis there.

In delegates, Taft got about as much satisfaction out of losing in the Republican race as Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee did in winning the Democratic popularity contest.

Kefauver's name was the only one on the ballot and he seemed headed for a 160,000 vote total on the final count.

But Archibald S. Alexander, chosen as the party's senatorial candidate and head of its at-large group in the 432-vote Chicago convention delegation, publicly is supporting Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois for the nomination.

Stevenson is expected to announce today whether he will bid for the presidential nomination. If he does, Alexander and other New Jersey leaders may try to throw the delegation to him.

Mrs. Truman Gets Set For Many White House Callers—All Women

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Harry Truman is just as anxious as any other wife to impress visitors—especially women—with her house-keeping.

So she's sprucing up the White House for its biggest batch of women guests since the Trumans moved back into the recently refurbished mansion.

That event comes Friday when an expected 5,000 daughters of the American Revolution troop through. They're holding their annual convention here.

N. J. Papers Forecast Primary Correctly

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—New Jersey newspaper editors called the turn in forecasting Gen. Eisenhower's victory yesterday in the state's Republican presidential preference primary.

In a statewide survey made last week by The Associated Press, the editors and political writers said soundings in their counties showed Eisenhower would capture about 56 per cent of the vote, Sen. Taft, 34, Harold E. Stassen, about 9, and write-ins for other candidates, 1 per cent.

On the basis of near-complete returns today Eisenhower received about 60 per cent, Taft, 37, and Stassen and write-ins, 3 per cent.

Russell Denies He Changes His Stand Toward Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia virulently denied today that he had changed or would change his position on civil rights because he is seeking the Democratic presidential nomination.

"I have never changed my position one iota," the Georgia Democrat told a reporter.

At the same time Russell said he is hopeful that the Democratic National Convention in Chicago can write a civil rights plank "on which Democrats could stand."

It may not be possible to write "an extreme plank" that will be acceptable to all viewpoints of the party, Russell said, adding:

"There must be give and take." For years Russell has been the floor leader of fights against numerous efforts to pass anti-lynch, fair employment, and similar civil rights legislation.

"Through the years I have always offered compromises upon these measures," Russell said.

He made it clear he does not intend to alter his basic opposition to what he called extreme civil rights measures or platform planks, now that he is an active presidential candidate.

Stevenson Won't Accept a Draft From Democrats?

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Sun-Times, in a copyright story from Washington, said Gov. Adlai Stevenson today will reject pleas of Democratic party leaders to become a presidential candidate.

The Sun-Times story, written by Milburn P. Akers, said the Illinois governor's decision was revealed to the Sun-Times "by a high party official here (Washington)." It added Stevenson plans an announcement at Springfield, Ill., about an hour after he departs for a special flood emergency conference with President Truman at Omaha today.

The governor, prominently mentioned as a possible candidate for the Democratic nomination as President, has called a news conference this morning at Springfield to clarify his political future.

Stevenson has steadfastly maintained he is a candidate only for one political office—that of governor.

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT—Sedalia, Mo., Wed., April 16, 1952

The Sun-Times story from Washington said he will issue a statement refusing to accept the presidential nomination and "it will be little short of unequivocal."

68 Convicts Holding Out In 'Pen' Riot

TRENTON, N. J. (P)—Sixty-eight desperate convicts, led by a handsome but vicious fire term knapper, held out for the second day today, barricaded in the print shop of New Jersey's state prison.

Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll said he had no intention of calling out the National Guard to quell the disturbance and left everything in the hands of prison officials.

The rioting convicts held four prison employees as hostages. One official said "we'd get them out of there in 10 minutes if it wasn't for the four men they're holding." The convicts were solicitous of their hostages, however, and even asked for — and received — medicine for two of them who have heart trouble.

The rioters were told their grievances would not be studied by prison officials until they released the hostages. They huddled inside the barred shop to think that over.

Gov. Stevenson 'Cannot Accept' Demo Nomination

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson said today: "I could not accept" the Democratic nomination for president.

Stevenson issued his statement clarifying his political plans shortly before his scheduled takeoff for a flight to Omaha and a conference with President Truman on flood conditions.

"I have repeatedly said that I was a candidate for governor of Illinois and had no other ambition," Stevenson said.

"I must now add that in view of my prior commitment to run for governor and my desire and the desire of many who have given me their help and confidence in our unfinished work in Illinois, I could not accept the nomination for any other office this summer."

Stevenson Withdrawal Boosts Harriman as Demo Candidate

NEWARK, N. J. (P)—Refusal of Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois to bid for the Democratic presidential nomination apparently promoted W. Averell Harriman toward a higher spot today in the scramble for the prize.

Harriman, the Mutual Security administrator, will be guest tomorrow night at a testimonial banquet in New York aimed at making him that state's favorite son in the contest. New York has 94 votes at the Democratic national convention.

Previously Harriman had been represented as one of those who have been urging Stevenson to become the candidate of the so-called "liberal" wing of the party which supports President Truman's Civil Rights program and most of his "Fair Deal" proposals.

Stevenson was urged by President Truman himself to seek the nomination but the Illinois governor declined Springfield. "I could not accept" the Democratic nomination.

This plunged the topsy-turvy democratic race, already mixed up by President Truman's announcement that he would not run again or accept a draft, into further confusion.

The Stevenson announcement removed for Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, the primary-winning ex-crime buster, one of the chief obstacles in his fight for the nomination at the Chicago convention.

Kefauver, only man on the Democratic ballot in yesterday's New Jersey presidential primary, appeared to have polled about 160,000 votes.

But Kefauver had no assurance his victory would bring to his standard any of the 32-vote delegation New Jersey will send to the Chicago convention.

In fact, Archibald S. Alexander, the party's senatorial nominee and unopposed head of its at-large delegation, openly had espoused the cause of Stevenson. And other party organization leaders had been cool to Kefauver's assertion that if he got a respectable vote in the primary, he also ought to get the delegates.

Harriman never has held office and his defense of the Yalta agreements and other administration foreign policy actions would be subject to severe attack by Republicans if he were to become the nominee.

In the Republican primary, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's smashing victory appeared to have convinced some of his backers that he won't have to campaign vigorously for the GOP presidential nomination.

Before New Jersey Republicans gave him a vote margin approaching 150,000 over Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, one influential Eisenhower campaigner told this reporter he believed Eisenhower had "pulled a boney" last week in saying he had no plans to campaign.

Flood

Gen. Pick sees victory within reach provided there is no sudden "blow out" of any wall or levee or an unexpected downpour of rain.

Upstream, the Missouri has handed the land a terrific trouncing, although the loss of life has been at a very minimum. So has the Mississippi in areas in Minnesota and Wisconsin and the Red River of the North in Minnesota.

Further, the Mississippi has a spearhead poised to rip into Iowa and possibly Illinois cities along its southward route.

While everything that could be done in threatened areas was being done, another big job was just beginning. That was rehabilitation of the homeless.

Here is the magnitude of today's cleanup job:

The rivers have, the Red Cross estimates forced 26,620 families, or more than 100,000 persons, to leave their homes. Not all of these have their homes in yet soggy areas through their dwellings, but most have and those who haven't rest their hopes on protective dikes.

The experts say there is farm damage of the worst sort, to land and buildings, with more to come.

There are cities that will need financial aid to get back into operation such things as utilities and sanitation systems. There are industries that may need the helping hand of federal funds.

Going down the Missouri, main cities mailed to date by the river are Bismarck, N.D.; Pierre, S.D.; Sioux City, Ia., and South Sioux City, Neb.

The Mississippi has punished St. Paul and is throwing a hard punch at Winona, Minn.; La Crosse, Wis., and Prairie du Chien, Wis.

The Red River of the North slashed into the twin city area of Fargo-Moorhead in North Dakota and Minnesota.

In addition, particularly on the Missouri, numerous small towns have been so hard struck that today they are virtually ghost areas.

A Red Cross spokesman at Washington said: "You can be sure it the damage on far will run to at least 100 million dollars."

Here are some of the moves, or planned moves, to meet the money needs of the victims:

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has declared the stricken sections to be disaster areas. This gives flood victims the chance to apply to RFC for disaster loans.

Rep. Andresen (R-Minn.) said he will introduce a bill Monday for an immediate one-billion-dollar appropriation for rehabilitation of private and public property.

Federal relief funds of $250,000 each have been allotted to Iowa, South Dakota and Minnesota and probably will be given to Wisconsin.

The Farm Credit Administration is considering special credit for livestock feeders.

Gov. Peterson of Nebraska asked President Truman to put Nebraska in the federal list of disaster states, and said he would call the Nebraska Legislature into special session tomorrow noon.

A check by The Associated Press showed a minimum of 87 towns flooded or threatened in the upper Midwest and a Red Cross report listed over a million acres flooded in the Missouri and Mississippi valleys.

Outside the Omaha and Council Bluffs zone, two of the more closely watched struggles against the waters were at Fargo, where volunteers worked in shifts to save the veterans hospital, housing some 200 patients, and at Winona, Minn., where a dike break would flood a third of the city.

Truman Will Review His Flood Demands

OMAHA, Neb. (P)—President Truman declared here today, after a survey of the flood-stricken Midwest, that he would review his demands upon Congress for enactment of a national flood control program, embracing flood control insurance.

Truman came here in the White House plane, "The Independence" after a flight from Washington which took him over vast portions of the devastated Midwest, for an emergency meeting with governors he invited to Omaha from seven Midwestern states.

In many respects, the President said, the present flood on the Missouri and the upper reaches of the Mississippi is worse than those experienced in Kansas and Missouri last year.

It showed, he said, a "definite decline" in the number of criminal cases per G. I. capita.

The privates and corporals, he showed, own approximately 20 per cent of all registered private cars and are involved in 40 per cent of all traffic accidents throughout the command.

They cause 36.5 per cent of all speeding violations, the general said, and are involved in nearly 50 per cent of all arrests for reckless driving.

The sergeants, who represent 20 per cent of the command's troop strength, earn more Good Conduct Ribbons. They were involved in only 14 per cent of all "serious incidents."

Commissioned officers, comprising 9 per cent of military personnel in the command, were responsible for 2.5 per cent of the crimes and offenses in the six-month period.

Building Own Private World Proves Success

By HAL BOYLE
CHICAGO (AP)—One way to success is to conquer the world. Another way is to build your own private world.

That is the way Burr Tillstrom chose when he was a child. Now at 34 he is America's crown prince of make believe, and millions share his private world.

It is the mad, wistful, happy world of "Kukla, Fran and Ollie," a television show about puppets and people that for five years has been turning children into grown-ups and grownups into children.

The show has been telecast through 1,000 performances and its followers are addicts rather than fans. There are some who firmly believe that "Kukla, Fran and Ollie," have done more for Chicago than even Mrs. O'Leary's cow.

Among these better known boosters are such other stars of the entertainment and literary world as Helen Hayes, Robert Sherwood, Mary Martin, John Steinbeck and Margaret Truman.

The day I dropped by to see the show in action Broadway Producer Leland Hayward and Playwright Russell Crouse also were there to view it. It is put on in a toy theater-studio big enough to hold only a dozen or so people.

The atmosphere was completely informal. Tillstrom came in, said hello, and quietly disappeared behind a screen. Fran Allison lolled comfortably in a chair. Then one by one the puppets appeared on the stage and began chatting with Fran. When Ollie, the one-toothed dragon came out, Crouse said:

"That Ollie—he's such a sweet person."

It is this quality that gives the show its appeal. The puppets not only sturdily regard themselves as people—they manage to make everybody else feel that way about them, too.

After half an hour or so of this "warm-up" conversation, Burr and Fran and the rest of the troupe had a brief consultation about the general pattern of the show. But there was no written script, no tense rehearsal. A few moments later and the show went on—ad lib and relaxed.

Later I talked with Burr. Like many puppet masters he is shy and rather less articulate than the characters he has created. He prefers to speak through them.

"We don't try to get across any special message," he said, "except perhaps a spirit of kindness and group unity."

"It would never enter into the heads of any of the characters to be deliberately cruel. I don't believe I've ever met a deliberately cruel person in my life. If I have, I don't know it."

"People sometimes are unpleasant but that usually reflects their own insecurity."

Burr is a bachelor. He likes to swim, go to the theater and the movies, do his own cooking.

"There are a million and one things I'd like to do in life," he said, "but mostly I just want to keep the spirit of Kukla and Ollie going."

So far he has resisted the temptation of exploiting his characters commercially. He has turned down offers by manufacturers who want to mass produce little Kukla and Ollie dolls for children.

"I don't want anybody else even working them as puppets," he said. "Or buying them as pieces of cloth and cotton."

He has a fine sense of artistic integrity, a complete loyalty to these creatures of his own imagination. He also has a good recipe for universal salvation.

"Being able to laugh at yourself," he remarked, "is the only thing that will save the world. It has to start with you."

New Electric Charge Remover

CHICAGO (AP)—Have you ever been shocked sliding over a plas-automobile seat cover or while flicking on a electric switch after walking across a rug? It's caused by static electricity and the shock comes when you are grounded.

Eric O. Sonneman, general manager of the Merix Chemical Co., (1021 East 55th Street, Chicago) announced his company now is ready to market its new anti-static compounds. One is used for smooth surfaces on which it is wiped, sprayed, or brushed. It prevents static in such objects as plexiglass windows, plastic parts, automobile doorhandles, and phonograph records.

The other removes electrical charges from fabrics of textile fibers and plastic yarns. It is used on seat covers, belts on industrial machinery and is sprayed on hospital floors and garments to prevent static-caused sparks.

Odds and Ends By News Staff

A young man who is about to be married is very fond of hunting and fishing—something the girl is probably going to have to learn to like.

Recently he went with her to her home in the country and decided he wanted to try out a gun. It is pretty hard for a man to make a choice between a gun and a girl, so this fellow talked the girl into going along.

"Go over on the other farm," said the mother of the girl, the family having two farms, "I don't want any shooting around here."

And so they went, but it had been raining and the other farm was muddy with deep holes. The boy somehow drove his car into one of the holes and was stuck. He tried and tried to get out but couldn't, so he asked the girl to drive while he pushed. The girl had never driven a car, but she proved her ability as a top driver. She drove right out of one hole into another and finally they got into a hole they just couldn't get out of.

From across the road the family watched and laughed—then father took pity on the boy, got out his truck and went to the rescue—but it was a sorry looking boy he brought back—down from head to foot and the only hunting he was interested in at that particular time was hunting soap and water.

The wedding day of a young girl is approaching very swiftly and at such times girls sometimes get a bit confused.

"I bought some new shoes," she told a girl in her office. "I've been thinking about them, looking at them for several days and today I bought them—but I don't think I like them."

"What kind are they?" asked her friend.

"Oh," she said, "They have straps over the shoulders."

The other girl looked up surprised—they must be something very different she thought to herself, but all she said aloud was "straps over the shoulders?"

"Yes, no—I mean strap over the ankle"—and then she drifted off in her thoughts again, "I was just thinking I would like an over-shoulder bag to go with them."—H. L.

Seems everybody, nearly, went to church Sunday except one man—Easter is the only Sunday of the year he misses, but it's an occasion for him to stay at home.

He reasons: "If some folks will only go on Easter, I'll stay at home and let them have my pew. The church will probably be crowded and some of those who go need the chair or seat I'd occupy 51 times more than I do because I occupy it 51 times to their one."

One local man, not too long a Sedalian, has been having his troubles. He has a pet peeve and it seems he's the pet of the fellows who can, and do, peeve him. He dislikes having his neck shaved, after a haircut, with lather that has become cold. He likes his shaves, front or back, with hot suds.

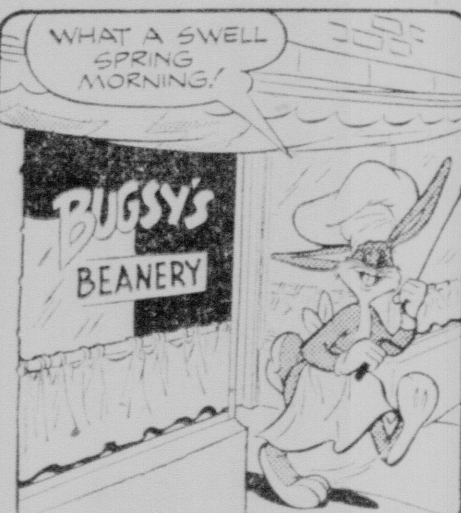

He's been to five different barbers now, he reports, and every one who has cut his hair twice or more used hot lather the first time, cold the second or third. With each cold neck shave he gets a new barber.

How long the barber supply will last he isn't guessing. He just hopes for a hot shaver, then he'll become a permanent customer.

Pat McCarran's Vengeance Carries Him Back to Nevada

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON — Senator Pat McCarran, czar of the powerful Senate judiciary committee, has dropped his Senate duties cold and gone out to Nevada to mend some snarled up political fences.

In so doing, he has left the justice department without a chief and rudderless, since the new attorney general, Jim McGranery cannot be confirmed until McCarran comes back to Washington next month. Actually, the judiciary committee could proceed to act without McCarran, but if so, every member of the committee would risk the wrath of the most vindictive senator on Capitol Hill.

Vindictiveness is one reason why McCarran has suddenly scooted back to Reno.

For the Democratic czar of Nevada has suddenly found that his vindictiveness has got him into trouble—namely, into a million-dollar suit for the restraint of trade.

Last month, McCarran got on the long distance telephone to Las Vegas and gave an ultimatum to the restaurant to yank their advertising out of the Las Vegas Sun. Reason was the Sun's support of a young Democratic candidate for the Senate, Tom Mechling, who has dared challenge McCarran and his former law partner, Alan Bible, also aspiring to the Senate.

Following McCarran's telephone call, the gamblers, hotels, bars and restaurants did yank their advertising out of The Sun. But Hank Greenspun, publisher of The Sun, is not a man to take things lying down. Last week he fired back with a lawsuit against the senator, plus his secretary Eva Adams, plus various members of the Las Vegas gambling world. It's a conspiracy in restraint of trade suit which may be hard for McCarran to beat.

V. For Vindictive This is not the first time McCarran has shown that his middle initial should be "V." for "Vindictive." When Denver Dickerson of the Nevada Labor News dared criticize McCarran, the senator also brought pressure on advertisers.

More recently, McCarran discovered that Newbold Morris, the ex-crime-buster, was a member of the "Committee on National Affairs," which has sought to improve the quality of the U. S. Senate. To this end, it contributed to Senator McCarran's opponent at his last election.

According to Senate colleagues, this was why McCarran was so hostile toward Morris and refused to give him subpoena powers for his corruption cleanup.

Again, when Columnists Joseph and Stewart Alsop dared criticize McCarran for his highhanded handling of the internal security committee, McCarran started an investigation to see whether one of their columns had violated the espionage act.

This is the man who now has stymied the justice department by going back to Nevada for a month, letting the new attorney general cool his heels waiting for confirmation.

Note — Another thing that worries McCarran is Nevada opposition to his old law partner Alan Bible whom McCarran wants in the Senate. Nevada figures that two law partners representing them in Washington would give McCarran a complete political monopoly hold on the state. They also like hard-working Tom Mechling who's running against Bible.

Gloom Palace Guard Gloom continues to hang over the palace guard—the boys immediately around the President—who now see themselves out of office, out of limousines, out of other lush perquisites come next year.

Gloom was deepest immediately after the Jackson-Jefferson Day dinner when their chief broke the bombshell. That evening they lingered on, weeping in their cups and talking hopefully of another possible candidate on whose coat-tails they might cling.

Only prospect that appealed to them was Governor Adlai Stevenson. But even this thought ended gloomily, for they agreed that the governor of Illinois had two great handicaps: (1) His divorce; (2) The fact that he testified for Alger Hiss. These two factors, they believed, might prove political suicide.

This would be his first full state slate of pledged delegates. The state Republican party met separately but simultaneously with its gears meshed to pledge its six national convention delegates to Taft.

TOMBOY by ED BARCELO

THE STORY: Private Detective George Kendall, retained by the wealthy Albert P. Sutworth to break up his daughter's romance with Max Arno, also known as Chief Big Bear the wrestler, has failed so far with Arno, but is making progress with Marilyn. Arno refused $10,000 of Sutworth's money to give up the girl. George (who has not been seen by Arno, although George has talked to him by telephone, now Marilyn has offered to take George up to see Arno.

MAX ARNO was not as tall as George Kendall had imagined, but he was of tremendous girth and, in a rugged, muscular fashion, he was handsome. He had dark hair and eyes, but his eyes were continuously moving, roaming over George's features.

"I've seen you some place before," he said to George Kendall. "I never forget a voice once I hear it."

George Kendall thought of the phone call and hoped Max Arno wouldn't remember it. If Marilyn found out that he was working for her father, the whole scheme would go up in smoke.

"Lots of people mistake me for someone else," George said, passing over it lightly. He sat down in a chair opposite Max Arno while Marilyn went into the kitchen to make some coffee.

He tried to relax and look comfortable, but he could feel Arno's dark eyes probing him, staring, trying to remember.

"You have a nice place here, Mr. Arno," he said, forcing the conversation.

Arno grunted. Without offering George one, he removed the telephone from a cigar and struck a match to light it. It was plainly evident that he resented George's presence.

"What did you want to see me about?" Max Arno said through a haze of cigar smoke. "And what about all those cops that came here yesterday?"

George had been expecting the question and he was ready. The cops were guilty of mistaking him for someone else, George said. They came to the wrong address. "As for me," George went on, "I'm a free lance writer," he lied. "I'm looking around for stories about little towns to sell to big newspapers."

"A newspaper guy, huh?" Max's manner became respectful.

"Of a sort. Naturally when I poked around Seneca Springs I heard of you. People here think you're quite a man." Marilyn came into the room and sat down close to Arno. "Your career might make quite a story. And the gymnasium you operate is worth something in this day and age when women think about reducing. So I came down to your place to get a personal interview. What do you think of the idea?"

"Newspaper guys always make me talk like I didn't use good English," said Max. "You know—dese and dese."

Max's Marilyn squeezed Max's arm. "It's a wonderful idea. Your whole life story in print and Dad will see what a big, wonderful man you really are."

Soon Max was talking and there was no way to stop him. His thick lips tumbled endlessly the words flowed in a continuous never-ending stream. He loved to talk about himself and George found himself running out of paper in his notebook. He shuddered slightly as he listened to Max Arno and ring conquests. He boasted of broken arms and twisted necks, of cheering crowds and victories by the dozen.

And then, he related, he had grown tired of it all and was now operating this gymnasium for women. "We help 'em reduce and keep in shape," he said.

He went on for an hour and the girl never once left his side. She yawned, her eyes grew heavy, but she stayed with him.

"Well I didn't bring my camera with me," Kendall said, "but I'd like to get some pictures of you and the gymnasium and also a few shots of Seneca Springs."

Arno rolled up his sleeve and glanced at his watch. "I can't give you no more time. There's gonna be a carnival benefit tomorrow night and I'm on the athletic committee and we have to have a meeting."

"Maybe later tonight?" Kendall suggested.

"Now, I'm taking sweetie pie," he pointed at Marilyn "to a dance."

"Wait a minute," Marilyn put in. "Why can't Mr. Kendall tag along to the dance. He can take pictures there. In fact, while you're at the meeting I could show Mr. Kendall our little town and then we'll both meet you back at the dance hall."

Arno grunted. "It's all right with me," Kendall said.

"Good!" Marilyn exclaimed, without waiting for Arno's comment, "then it's settled."

MARILYN put on her jacket and Kendall started for the door.

"Aren't you gonna shake hands good-by?" Arno asked, getting off the divan.

George was surprised by Arno's sudden politeness. "Of course, I am. It's been awfully nice meeting you," and he extended his hand.

The door spun from under his feet, furniture whirled by and he was flying through space. He crashed at the far end of the room, knocking over a book case littered with pottery.

George was stunned and then as he heard Arno's raucous laughter filling the room, he was flooded with anger. The blood rushed to his face. He threw aside the broken pieces of pottery and jumped to his feet.

Blackleg and Malignant Edema in Cattle and Sheep

Blackleg and Malignant Edema are very similar, highly fatal, rapidly progressive diseases caused by two closely related bacteria. Clostridium chauveii and Clostridium septicum. These organisms are widely distributed.

Blackleg is chiefly a disease of 6-month to 2-year-old cattle, but it may occur in younger or older animals. Both blackleg and malignant edema are most prevalent during the spring and fall pasture seasons. Outbreaks are often associated directly with wounds. Heavy losses have resulted when freshly docked or castrated lambs or calves have been turned into corrals or pastures where animals dead of blackleg have remained unburied or where the soil is heavily infected.

SYMPTOMS—Blackleg usually is easily recognized. There is loss of appetite, lameness, high fever, rapid breathing and listlessness. Gas-filled, tumor-like swellings that make a crackling sound when pressed may appear in the muscles under the skin of the neck, brisket, shoulders, chest and flanks. In cattle, death, preceded by violent convulsions, usually occurs 12 to 36 hours after the disease is first noted. The carcass shows dark discoloration and when cut gives off a dark, gaseous fluid with a characteristic sweetish odor. Malignant edema cannot be distinguished from blackleg by field examination.

Garver Tosses 3-0 Victory Over Tigers for Browns; Schoendienst Homers In Card Defeat of Pirates

By The Associated Press
A three-run offense was the key to the St. Louis Cardinals and Browns' victory yesterday in their season-opening games. The Cardinals won 3-0 over the Detroit Tigers, while the Browns defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2 in the only night game on the program.

Garver never came close to trouble while traveling the nine-inning distance for the first time this spring. He batted in all the Browns' runs and allowed just six hits while walking one and fanning nine.

19,000 To See Bloody Brawl: Rocky vs. Sugar

CHICAGO (AP)—More than 19,000 fans, wild-eyed with anticipation of a bloody brawl, will pack Chicago Stadium tonight to watch reckless Rocky Graziano try to blast the middleweight crown off Sugar Ray Robinson.

Most observers think the clash won't go more than eight rounds of the scheduled 15. Robinson is a 3-1 favorite and odds are even that he will score a knockout inside eight heats.

"I hope I can get it over quickly, but if I have to go 15 I'm ready," said Robinson. "Graziano is a guy who can take you out with one punch. I think he's more dangerous than Randy Turpin."

Robinson wears 11 inches of hemstitching around his eye from gashes opened by Turpin when he lost his middleweight title to the Briton and won it back in a rematch last fall.

Robinson undoubtedly will be sniping at that old wound with the strategy that if he can't belt the champion down for the count he might bloody him up enough to score a TKO.

"I am confident I'll win by a knockout," said Rocky. "I always thought I could beat him and now I'll prove it. I can knock out any guy I can hit, and I think I can hit Robinson."

George Gainford, Robinson's manager, said:

"I think Ray will win, but it won't be easy. Robinson will have to use caution every minute and not take any chances."

Arcaro Sees No Kentucky Derby Standouts as Yet

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Arcaro, who has ridden more Kentucky Derby winners than any other jockey, said today "I still don't see any standout horses" for the $100,000 gallop at Louisville's Churchill Downs May 3.

The 36-year-old Cincinnati booter, who will handle the Calumet farm's Hill Gail this time, says it's impossible to go out on a limb for any of the 3-year-olds.

"At this time, that is. No stick-out may appear until just before the race because most of the top candidates have never hooked up with one another this year."

Arcaro had just returned from Lexington, Ky., where he rode Hill Gail to triumph in the Phoenix Handicap last week.

"You know, it never occurred to me until just the other day, Ben Jones and I have never lost a Derby."

Jones engaged Arcaro to take Hill Gail after Calumet's contract rider—Steve Brooks—resigned.

"Yes sir, we're battling one thousand down there," said Arcaro.

At Sportsman's Park manager Eddie Stanky bowed in as the new Card boss before 15,850 fans by benching himself and playing Al (Red) Schoendienst at 2nd base. Schoendienst, returning to action after a finger fracture, responded with a first-inning homer to put the Cards in gear.

Ralph Kiner, the Pirate strong man, also homered, off starter Gerald Staley in the seventh. Veteran Al Brazier entered the game in the eighth, after the Bucs had scored again, to protect Staley's victory. Murry Dickson was the loser, leaving in favor of Ted Wilks in the eighth.

Cliff Chambers of the Cards and Howie Poller of the Bucs will pitch in tonight's game.

12 THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT—Sedalia, Mo., Wed., April 16, 1952

'Leo The Lip' Satisfied With Getting Wakefield for Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—The Giants were sitting around in the locker room peeling off their uniforms after their yesterday's opener against the Phils had been called by rain, and Manager Leo Durocher was parrying questions from a dozen writers in his adjoining office.

The subject principally was Dick Wakefield, the wandering boy who just had been signed to a Giants contract as a pinch-hitter, an act broadly comparable to a last-hour reprieve from the governor. No body else had wanted the strange young outfielder even a little bit, Leo, who never does things by halves, had just said he was crazy about Wakefield when somebody asked him what he thought he could do about the Wakefield disposition.

"Disposition?" he yelped. "What in hell do I care about his disposition as long as he hits that ball for me? All I can tell you is that I like him and everybody on this club likes him and he's tickled to death to be with us. That's good enough for me and I'll tell you Dick's going to do all right."

"I never saw him before in my life and I'm not paying any attention to the things they say about him not liking to play baseball. He says he wants to play baseball now for us and that's all I'm interested in. He'll get a chance from me."

The listeners knew they were being subjected to the Durocher treatment, most of them having heard the same routine on other occasions, but they didn't mind. They knew that Leo really meant, or at least thought he meant, what he was saying, and they also knew that he had been getting some amazing results the past two years by pouring on the old oil.

Two seasons ago the St. Louis Cardinals decided that Jim Hearn was too interested in golf, and other pursuits to pitch any longer. They knew that Leo really meant, or at least thought he meant, what he was saying, and they also knew that he had been getting some amazing results the past two years by pouring on the old oil.

They knew that Leo really meant, or at least thought he meant, what he was saying, and they also knew that he had been getting some amazing results the past two years by pouring on the old oil.

The "new" Durocher devotes a lot of time to soaping up the boys, and they respond to it by putting on a little extra for him. We are convinced that the present generation of players will extend themselves more consistently for a manager of this type than they will for the martinet of the old school. Not that Durocher can't still be a tough little man when he needs to be, but he has learned when to turn it off and on.

Don't worry about him not knowing all about Wakefield. Somewhere in his desk he has the full "book" on the handsome young Detroit boy, Leo knows, but he is just enough of an egoist to believe that he can succeed in igniting a spark where other managers failed.

Spinach can be grown only as a summer crop in distinctly cool countries, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

24 Rookies See Action In Openers

By JOE REICHLER
Who said youth must be served? Apparently that doesn't go in baseball. At least it didn't in the major league inaugurals.

Exactly two dozen rookies, the most in more than 20 years, saw action yesterday as the 1952 season got under way. And while the majority of them did little more than hold their breath and fight the grizzled veterans to steal the show.

Here is a blow-by-blow account as the oldsters practically blanked the youngsters in the first round of the battle between the vets and the rookies.

Boston—A chilled gathering of 4,694 watched 34-year-old Preacher Roe still the Braves' bat with seven on hits as Brooklyn unveiled his 1952 Smith-Cotton baseball team, before home-town fans. The game, to be played on the Liberty Park diamond, starts at 2:30 p. m.

Rain, which forced postponement of the Tigers' opener against the Jefferson City Jays last week, has curtailed local practice for the Kewpie contest. Glenn has drilled his charges inside most of the time but still isn't satisfied with the condition of his athletes.

With this fact in mind, he has nominated "Skip" Schulz and Bill Arnold to divide the hurling chores against Columbia.

Probable Smith-Cotton starting lineup will have Bob Lane at shortstop, Buck Bennett at second base, Sonny Thomas playing third, Bill Dey in left, Larry Mines behind the plate, Floyd Burton at first, Joe Walters in center, C. H. Williams in right and Arnold or Schulz on the hill.

The Kewpie lineup will be dotted with faces familiar to fans in this area. Beside Musgrave, former Legion stars Don Webb and "Cookie" Whitesides are sure to be in the starting alignment.

Musgrave is expected to be the starting pitcher for Columbia.

American Association Opens Play Today: Top Four Teams Meet

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The four teams picked to finish in the American Association's first division will tear into each other in the season openers today.

Defending champion Milwaukee, heavily favored to repeat in a poll of baseball writers, will be host to Minneapolis, the club picked by the writers to share fourth place with Indianapolis.

Kansas City, named to finish third, entertains St. Paul, the club named by the pollsters to repeat in the runnerup spot.

The other two openers find Louisville at Toledo and Indianapolis at Columbus.

Bill Bangert Will Enter KU Relays As Olympic Warmup

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Blind Bill Bangert, former University of Missouri and Purdue football star, will use the Kansas Relays here Saturday as warmup ground in his bid for a berth on the United States Olympic team.

Bangert, who lost his eyesight in recent years because of a rare allergy, will participate in the shot put Saturday. While it's officially an exhibition here, Bangert is dead serious about winning a spot on the U. S. Olympic team.

"I have plenty of time to throw the shot at home," Bill said, "but that isn't the same as working under fire. I can get into the competitive spirit in the relays."

The 6 feet 5, 265 pound athlete heaved the 16-pound iron 56 feet 5½ inches in an exhibition at the Missouri High School Indoor Track Meet at Columbia, Mo., this spring. That toss compared with a put of 54 feet 7¾ inches by Darrow Hopper, the relays defending champion from Texas A. & M., at the Texas relays.

Special treatment of sawdust has been developed to make it useful as food for cattle.

The sun's temperature at the surface is estimated at about 9000 degrees Fahrenheit.

Friendly Farmer Dies From Bomb In His Car

Not Draft Dodger, He Hesitates to Answer Call From the French

OKLAHOMA CITY — It's not that Robert Lucien Puzin is a draft dodger.

The 19-year-old Oklahoma City student just doesn't believe he is legally required to answer a draft call — from the French government.

Puzin, a naturalized American, is a native of Paris, France. He has received insistent letters from French authorities to report for a physical in Paris.

Puzin went to his draft board, which went to the U. S. District Attorney at Oklahoma City, who turned the matter over to French immigration authorities at Kansas City.

In the U. S. A. Puzin is classified 1-A. He is attending military school at Bryan, Tex., and plans later to study at Texas A. & M. He hopes to finish his studies before serving in the Army — the U. S. Army.

Dreams of Lights on Broadway Then Dashes All Over World

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
Once upon a time there was a little girl who lived in Pittsburgh, went to Mount Mercy Academy, saved her allowance for tap dancing lessons and dreamed of seeing her name in lights on Broadway.

Dorothy Wenzel made the grade in several hit shows, worked for a while as a Powers model and then made a date with adventure.

That was 10 years ago. Since then she has traveled close to a million miles and has seen more of such places as Okinawa, Guam, The Aleutians, Tokyo and Korea than she has of the lights of Broadway.

Dorothy, a small and vibrant brunette whose eyes light up when she talks of America's fighting men, joined the first unit of USO Camp Shows at the beginning of World War II, when the organization was under the direction of the Citizens' Committee for the Army and Navy. She traveled to U. S. Army camps on truck shows at the beginning, then made five trips overseas during the war. She was with the first camp shows unit sent to Newfoundland, the first in Europe, the first in the Pacific theater.

When the first camp shows unit was reactivated last May, Dorothy was on hand to M. C. the troupe of six men and three girls, and again was with the first unit to reach Korea.

After Korea, Dorothy and her troupe visited Tokyo hospitals, stopped at The Philippines, then were sent to Alaska and the Aleutians.

She spent the Christmas and New Year holidays in Europe, where the company visited 14 countries in 15 weeks, giving shows to U. S. troops in Iceland, Greenland, Labrador, Newfoundland, England, Scotland, France, Germany, Austria, French Morocco, Trieste, It-

Senate Starts Cuts On Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today begins its paring of president Truman's $7,900,000,000 foreign aid bill behind closed doors.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) predicted the group will trim at least a billion dollars off the President's request.

Most other members expected cuts. But the measure appeared to have more friends now than when Truman sent it to the Capitol six weeks ago.

Primitive Villagers Like Baseball

ROME (AP)—A backward Mexican village has discovered basketball and with it more methods of community life.

Emile Tejeda, UN Food and Agriculture Organization expert, told the story here. When he and his staff arrived in the almost inaccessible Mexican village of Cuechuchco the people ran and hid, he said.

Generally the inhabitants became more confident. But the period of friendliness and co-operation really began after the discovery that the villagers liked basketball. The success of working together to build a basketball court inspired the villagers to take up other community projects.
